They have been serving authentic Tex-Mex cuisine for over 20 years. Founded in 2002 by the Velez family, we've brought the flavors that our family grew up loving in our hometown of Valle Hermoso, Tamaulipas, Mexico to Dade County, Georgia. Since the beginning, our focus has always been to provide the best tasting foods using only the freshest ingredients. From the chips and salsa, to our unique Fajita marinade, to our in-house hot sauce, everything is made in the restaurant.

10 Signs that Your Body Needs a Cleanse

In case you need a refresher, The Master Cleanse was/is a quasi-juice fast that centered around drinking tea and/or lemonade combined with maple syrup and cayenne pepper. A dietician named Stanley Burroughs originally created the diet in the 1940s calling it The Master Cleanse. He reintroduced it in the 1970s, and it was rediscovered, again, in the 1990s. One can argue that the current popularity of cleanses kicked off with The Master Cleanse Diet. We've come a long way from "cleanses" that eliminate food (and important nutrients) to which liver support was merely an afterthought. Thankfully, there are now, better options.

What is the difference between a detox and a cleanse? Detoxification is a physiologic, natural, process that eliminates waste in our bodies primarily through our liver but also through other organs like the kidneys, skin, lungs, and GI Tract. Toxins like heavy metals, industrial chemicals, waste that the body produces, and more, are removed through this process. Detoxification is a long-term process that requires lifestyle and diet changes. Cleansing is a similar process with a more short-term approach, focused on increasing bowel movements naturally, which will facilitate the removal of toxins from the body and support the digestive and other systems.

How do you know that you need a cleanse, and what is the best cleanse for you? When dealing with more complicated health issues, a longer-term cleanse detox may be needed but most people can benefit from a month-long cleanse that can act as a reset.

Built in 1926, Dade County's historic courthouse remains the heart of our community. Recently renovated, it now houses the Chamber and Welcome Center, along with other government offices, and offers rental space in the old courtroom upstairs. The nearby Dade County Justice Building, completed in 1989, and the Dade County Administrative Building, built between 2000-2001, are also key facilities. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the 1926 courthouse has been revitalized to serve future generations while preserving its rich history.

UGA SBDC aid with financing, strategic planning assure success for Kingsland business

Shalana McNamee and Jamos Beierle faced an unexpected career shift when the national company they worked for suddenly closed its doors—a move that affected 3,500 employees. With the help of the University of Georgia Small Business Development Center (UGA SBDC), the siblings decided to launch their own small business with the hopes of employing their former colleagues.

Jennifer Lee, a business consultant with the UGA SBDC in Brunswick, guided McNamee and Beierle in creating a strategic business plan and connected them with additional SBDC resources. In just under three years, their company, American Eagle LLC in Kingsland, has doubled its employee numbers, earned millions in annual sales, and expanded its market.

McNamee, American Eagle's majority owner and CEO, and Beierle, the company's director of operations, each held leadership positions with national infrastructure maintenance company DBi Services for several years. Beierle was still with DBi when it folded on a Friday afternoon in October 2021. Over that weekend, the siblings decided to pool their savings and launch their own company offering infrastructure and environmental maintenance services.

"By Monday morning, we were calling customers to see if we could get emergency contracts," Beierle said. "Within the first week, we landed our first commitments and contracts, and knew we were in business."
